REPORT INTRODUCTION

Purpose of the Report

The renewal report is a summary of findings and a resulting recommendation regarding renewal of the charter or contract for an operator-run school. To inform this recommendation, Baltimore City Public Schools collects and analyzes documentation including the School Effectiveness Review (SER) performed on site at each school and the school's renewal application, along with an evaluation of the school's performance based on the Renewal Rubric and consideration of all other relevant information.

City Schools' renewal criteria are based on state law (§ 9-101, et seq., MD. CODE ANN., EDUC.) and Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners policy IHB and associated administrative regulations (IHB-RA and JFA-RA). The Board's renewal policy requires that schools up for renewal be evaluated on multiple measures including, but not limited to, the following:

- Student achievement (constituting at least 50 percent of the renewal score and including measures such as schoolwide performance on state assessments, student growth or "value-added" measures, unique indicators, and a school's fidelity to its charter);
- School climate (student attendance, suspensions, enrollment, graduation and dropout rates, school choice data, and school survey results from parents, teachers, and students);
- Financial management and governance (annual audits, school budget submissions, grants management, and relevant documentation provided by the school's board); and
- Effective management (academic programming for special student populations and school compliance with laws, rules, policies, and regulations).

The renewal process is a component of City Schools' annual review of its school portfolio, designed to ensure that students and families across the district have access to school options that meet their interests and needs. In 2011, City Schools formed the Renewal Stakeholders Working Group (composed of school operators from a range of school types, Supporting Public Schools of Choice, and the Maryland Charter School Network) to develop a methodology for evaluating the performance of operator-run schools. The result: a fair, transparent, and rigorous Renewal Framework that reflects schools' unique nature and innovative contributions to student achievement, used for the first time in the 2012-13 school year.

At the conclusion of each year's renewal cycle, staff engages key stakeholders in a review of the process to identify areas for improvement that could be addressed while still maintaining a level of predictability for schools up for renewal in the following year. The most recent round of process review considered the complication of the transition from the Maryland School Assessment (MSA) to the Partnership for the Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC) assessment and the implications for renewal, given that, to date, a significant portion of the renewal decision has been based on MSA data. Changes made to the framework as a result of this most recent review include the following:

- Highly Effective Instruction (from the SER) moved to the academic section to decrease weight of MSA (temporary change for the 2014-15 and 2015-16 school years);
- 2013 MSA data used, but with reduced weights for absolute, growth, and trend (temporary change for the 2014-15 and 2015-16 school years);
- Northwest Evaluation Association (NWEA) allowed as alternative for absolute, trend, and growth measures (previously was allowed as alternative for growth only; temporary change for the 2014-15 and 2015-16 school years);
- College and Career Readiness measure separated into three components—success, participation, and college enrollment; and
- Audit submission and state/federal grant management collapsed into the Operator Capacity measure.

The Process

The review process has the following components:

- Renewal Rubric (includes data from standardized assessments, school surveys, and the 5 Essentials Survey)
- Application for renewal
- Data tables prepared by City Schools
- School Effectiveness Review

The New and Charter School Advisory Board, a cross-representational group made up of members representing foundations, nonprofit organizations, school choice advocates, school operators, and district representatives, reviews each of these components and makes recommendations to City Schools’ CEO on whether schools should be renewed. Renewal recommendations are then voted on by the Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners. According to Board policy, City Schools may determine that a public charter school is eligible for a five-year contract term, three-year contract term or nonrenewal.

Discussion:

It is the recommendation of the New and Charter School Advisory Board that the contract with Afya Baltimore, Inc., to operate Tunbridge Public Charter School be renewed for five years.

The school was rated Highly Effective in three of the key areas (Academics, Climate, and Governance) and Effective in Financial Management.

The school was rated Highly Effective for its absolute performance on the 2013 MSA in both math (placing in the 89th percentile, with 86.8 percent of students proficient or advanced) and reading (placing in the 94th percentile, with 89.9 percent of students proficient or advanced). The school was rated Highly Effective in the area of highly effective instruction based on the SER, which considers how teachers plan and deliver instruction, adjust instruction based on data, and create a positive classroom environment and how school leaders support the instructional program at the school. The school was rated Highly Effective in teacher and student satisfaction

¹ Financial management considers a review of the operator’s audits over the contract term. Effective is the highest rating available for this section.

(for students in grades 6 to 8) as evidenced by the 5 Essentials Survey and Highly Effective in parent and student satisfaction (for students in grades 3 to 5) as evidenced by City Schools’ school survey. Research indicates that schools that perform well on the 5 Essentials Survey are likely to improve student learning. Finally, the school was rated Highly Effective in Vision and Engagement as evidenced by the SER.
