About the La Habra City School District: The La Habra City School District (LHCS D) is located in the Northwestern part of Orange County, California. The nine schools in LHCS D serve approximately 5,000 students. LHCS D has seven elementary schools for students in transitional kindergarten through sixth grade and two Middle Schools. In 2018, LHCS D completed a comprehensive reconfiguration of the school district. As a result, each school has an identified academic focus or magnet. Although the academic identity varies from school to school, each campus shares the same expectation for success, incorporating a variety of educational experiences, rigorous curriculum and instruction, and a focus on the whole child.
