Seventh Grade

European Explorers

In seventh grade we do American History. We start with the first European explorers and their colonies. Then we study the Revolutionary War period and the writing of the U.S. Constitution. We then move into the settling of the area between the Appalachian Mountains and the Mississippi River. This leads to the growth of America as a nation including the Industrial Revolution and a lot of cool inventions. Unfortunately this also leads into sectional differences that lead up to the Civil War. We finish seventh grade just before the opening shots of the Civil War.
