

Science Curriculum

Seventh Grade.

We start the year by reviewing lab safety, scientific inquiry, and the metric system. Students will continually work on graphing throughout the school year. The main branch of science covered in seventh grade is life science. Some topics in life science that we cover are, classification, cell processes, genetics, ecology, botany, and comparative anatomy. We will also review topics involving matter and energy. Science current events and STEM challenges are continued throughout the year.