“Career Cafes” Program at Steel Valley Introduces Various Careers to Students

Munhall, PA – On Thursday, Feb. 7, Steel Valley School District’s The Future is Mine (TFIM) student group hosted its first of many “Career Cafes” thanks to a POP grant from The Consortium for Public Education featuring Josh Taylor, who works for 93.7 the Fan and has a Sports Talk Radio Show.

Taylor, a graduate of Schenley High School and Duquesne University, visited with students to discuss his career and career path.

Plans are underway for students to learn about additional careers in the future as part of the Career Cafes program.
