Author Visit
Honoring Dr. Robert Snyder
A 15-Year Army Veteran and Lifelong Teacher/Professor of Elementary Education

Early in September, Dr. Robert Snyder received the call. His troop is ready to be deployed on November 14, 2019. He will be reporting to duty at Barrett Elementary Mess Hall at Thirteen hundred hours or One o’clock. He will be responsible for training some new recruits just like his drill sergeant trained him when he was a young cadet. He will march into the gymnasium ready to gain the attention of students, parents, teachers, administrators and honored guests. He will put them at ease and will capture their imagination as he engages them in “learning about, appreciating and understanding the dedication and sacrifices our veterans make including the joys and hardships faced by all military veterans in peacetime and in war.” He is prepared to be bombarded with a convoy of questions because he understands that society thinks, “Children will just automatically know what holidays such as Veterans Day and Memorial Day mean.” He accepts the responsibility that it is part of his duty to advance their understanding of “why” they are honoring these brave men and women. Matter of fact, Dr. Snyder has “passionately made educating children about veterans his mission in life.” He is the author of two children books. In What Is A Veteran, Anyway? (2017 Notable Trade Book Winner), he draws on his own personal experience from his 15 years of service in the U.S. Army and his one tour in Baghdad, Iraq during the first year of the war. He tells a personal story about the life of a soldier under the extreme conditions of combat.

FREEDOM ISN’T FREE
VETERANS DAY
HONORING ALL WHO SERVED

Why Did Daddy Have to Leave? is a story told from a child’s point of view as they struggle with understanding how a parent who loves them chooses to leave them for an extended period of time. Dr. Snyder shares his insight in a timeless book, which was inspired by his own children, who were 6 and 8 years old, when he was deployed to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. This book can serve as survival guide “to help children understand and cope with the temporary, but long-term absence of a parent serving our country in war or in peace time.” Dr. Snyder actions as a veteran reminds us what it means to serve one’s country as he donates a portion of the proceeds from his books to Slippery Rock University Veteran Service Dog Program. At the end of the assembly, there will be no casualties under Dr. Snyder’s command. He has enlisted our help as new recruits and we are ready to attack with force and “empower others with insightful respect for our Veterans, past and present!” As Dr. Snyder prepares to leave Barrett Elementary and we retreat back to our garrisons we will be able to defend what it means to salute our military men and women with new intelligence. We will feel a sense of pride like being awarded the Purple Heart.

This program was made possible by a donation from the High School Veterans Day Committee.

Cards For Veterans: Take a few minutes to help your child understand the meaning of Veterans Day by working with them to design a homemade card to give to a Veteran. Cards are due by Friday, November 8th.

...who served in the Marine Corps and as a Munhall Councilman. There will be musical selections by Middle School Chorus, High School Concert Choir and High School Band.

Poppies were created by Barrett Students to help us remember those who served and gave the greatest sacrifice their own life. Poppies cost 50 cents. The tradition originated thanks to a World War I brigade surgeon. He was shocked to see the red flowers growing on a ravaged battlefield and wrote the poem, “In Flanders Field.”
