

Hi boys and girls!

I had a great time meeting with the remote-only students this week. It was really nice seeing you, and I am glad to hear things are going well!

As a reminder, there is no school on Monday because of President's Day.

The Virtual Scholastic Book Fair will begin on Tuesday. You will receive the link to the shopping website on Tuesday and it will also be posted on the Park App and Facebook page!

Zoom links for live-streaming sessions will be posted to your teachers' Google Classroom pages next week. All students who are not in school should live-stream.

On March 1st, all in-person students will attend school Monday-Thursday. The daily schedule for students will remain the same.

Have a nice long weekend boys and girls!
