School Lunch Program in Brazil

During the months of September and October we will be featuring Brazil, which is the largest country in South America and the only Portuguese-speaking nation on the continent. It is also the fifth largest nation in the world.

School Lunch Program in Brazil

- Brazilian schools have the second largest feeding program in the world. They are feeding 42 million of the country's school children for free. Brazil spends $1.3 billion per year on its national student nutrition program and the program has been around since 1954.
- Brazil's constitution requires that 30 percent of the ingredients for school meals be sourced from local, family farms. The country has helped about four million of the country's small farmers and promoted rural development.
- At the same time, purchases of products with high levels of sodium, sugar and saturated fats are restricted, and the provision of low-nutrition drinks at schools are prohibited.

- Everyone benefits from this program, students consume fresh food; farmers have a ready outlet for their produce; and these new relationships nourish the economy.

What is for Lunch in Brazil?

- School lunch providers in Brazil are required to plan menus to accommodate seasonal production schedules, so there are always fresh fruit and vegetables on the plate in the school canteen.
- A typical meal might include rice and beans, meat, egg or fish and veggies like kale or potato, plus fruit or a fresh fruit juice like passionfruit or pineapple.
- Brazil recommends that the menu should provide 30–45% of the energy requirements of the RDA.

National Dish in Brazil

Feijoada is a hearty meat stew made from pork and black beans. Traditional side dishes served with feijoada are kale, ground manioc, orange salad, and arroz.

District Philosophy

It is the philosophy of the district to provide nutritious meals to all students who wish to purchase a meal or are eligible for a free or reduced price meal per the regulations of the National School Lunch Program. Parents are responsible for either providing their children with meals, applying for free or reduced price meals when appropriate, or providing adequate funds for their child to purchase a meal. But under no circumstance will a student be denied a breakfast [when offered] or a lunch meal due to a lack of money or a negative food account balance. A child will not be denied a school meal because of parental negligence as we know this unfairly punishes children and impedes their ability to learn.

Regulations and Guidelines

This policy is informed by regulations and guidelines published by the United States Department of Agriculture under the National School Lunch Program, Massachusetts General Law, and the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education's Office for Food and Nutrition Programs.

Policies

a) Policy on Communicating Student Food Account Balances

Parents are responsible for knowing the amount of their child's food account balance.

Parents may view their child's food service account balance at anytime by looking in PowerSchool using their Parent Portal Access. Parents of students who have a negative account balance will receive an email communicating the negative balance amount until it is rectified. The use of automated telephone calls will also be employed for the collection of delinquent accounts. Parents may set up automatic replenishment of their child's account through the district's online payment processor to avoid negative account balances.

b) Policy on Charging Meals and a la carte Items

A child will not be denied a school meal because of parental negligence as we know this unfairly punishes children and impedes their ability to learn. Students who have a negative fund balance may charge a la carte items to their account only when those a la carte items are accompanied by a meal. Students who have a negative account balance cannot further their indebtedness by purchasing a la carte items without a meal.

So called "alternative meals" i.e. peanut butter and jelly or cheese sandwiches will not be used as substitutes as this identifies the child as having a delinquent account in front of their peers and will likely not provide any added incentive for the parent to pay.

c) Policy on Delinquent Debt Collections

Payment for negative account balances may be made at anytime using the district's online payment processor. Parents can access this feature via their PowerSchool Parent Portal access account. Students may also rectify their account by paying cash or by check to the cashier at their school. Parents may also rectify negative accounts by making a check payment to the Shrewsbury School Department and mailing it or dropping it off at the Food Service Director's Office, Shrewsbury High School, 64 Holden Street, Shrewsbury, MA 01545.

When a student account balance goes negative to a sum that exceeds three times the cost of a lunch meal, this will be considered a delinquent account. The Food Service Director, in consultation with the school cafeteria manager, will then begin collection efforts with the respective parent or guardian. The Food Service Director may also share a negative account balance report periodically with school principals because this information may be useful as an additional symptom of a larger problem that the student and their family are experiencing. If attempts by the Food Service Director do not result in payment, then the delinquent account will be sent to the School District Business Office. The Business Office will attempt collection through parent/guardian communications. Collection efforts may result in denial of access to discretionary school programs, pursuit in small claims court, or sale of the debt to a collection agency.

Denial of access to school programs as noted above may include but is not limited to: graduation activities or ceremonies, the Extended School Care Program, Summer Programs, Extra-Curricular/After School Programs, and other, optional, fee-based programs.
