

Photo provided

"Jumpman," a photo by Downers Grove North High School junior Evie Brindl, recently won the National Scholastic Silver Medal in Art.

DGN students earn national art, writing honors

SUBURBAN LIFE MEDIA

DOWNERS GROVE – Four Downers Grove North High School students were honored for their art in a prestigious, long-running recognition program for creative teens in grades seven through 12, according to a news release from the school's fine art department.

The nonprofit Alliance for Young Artists and Writers announced the 2017 Scholastic Art and Writing Awards, honoring the work of students across the country in 29 categories, including poetry, photography, sculpture, editorial cartoons, video game design and humor.

Four students from Downers Grove North were selected for special honors among the 330,000 works of art and writing submitted:

- Evie Brindl, junior, Silver Medal in Art for "Jumpman" in photography category

- Calden Faldetta, freshman, Silver Medal in Art for "Diversified" in photography category

- Audrey Staron, senior, Silver Medal in Art for "A Perilous Preservation" in photography category

- Emma Wilson, senior, special honors for "War Poetry" in writing portfolio