

Dear Family:

Is your child having a great deal of difficulty reading and spelling the words? If so, I want you to make an appointment to see me because slow and inaccurate reading of words are the best predictors of a possible reading difficulty.

For the next two weeks, I am going to practice review words and teach the concept of a closed syllable. A closed syllable ends in a consonant and only has one vowel. The vowel in a closed syllable is short.

It is important for your child to recognize a closed syllable because when the vowel is closed in at the end of a word, the vowel sound is short, as in the word "math" or "cat". The recognition of this word structure will be key as we continue with the program.

To mark a closed syllable, your child has learned to scoop or underline the word, put a c under the scoop to indicate "closed" and a breve (\sim) over the vowel.

căt or măth
c c

Even though all the words have been closed syllables, every once in a while ask, "Is this word a closed syllable?" and, "Why?"

Let me know if you have any concerns.

Sincerely,

Homework Guide

Review closed syllables with your child during the next 2 weeks.

Follow These 5 Steps:

1. Dictate the word and have your child echo the word.
2. Have your child tap out the sounds. Do not tap trick words.
3. Have your child tell you the letters that go with those sounds.
4. Have your child write the letters. It is helpful if you say the letters as your child writes them.
5. Ask your child to point out the closed syllables in each sentence. (See Answer Key).
