Academic Dishonesty

The faculty member who suspects a student of academic dishonesty shall document the commission of the act by recording the time, date, place, and a description of the act and collect the evidence such as photocopying the plagiarized examination, placement assessment, test, quiz, project, report, and/or other form of evaluating student learning.

The faculty member who has evidence of the act of dishonesty shall attempt to resolve the matter informally by speaking with the student, referencing Feather River College's Standards of Student Conduct. At this point, the faculty member may choose to take no further action or issue a lower grade, including a failing grade of "F" for the examination, placement assessment, test, quiz, project, report, and/or other form of evaluating student learning. If the latter action is imposed, the student must be informed during the informal discussion. In addition, the faculty member, who has evidence of the act of dishonesty is strongly encouraged to file a Student Incident Report with the CSSO and must inform the student of this action.

In the event that the offense is so serious as to warrant disciplinary action, or in the case of two instances of academic dishonesty by the same student, the CSSO will issue disciplinary action(s) according to the steps outlined in this procedure.

If the student challenges the instructor's determination of academic dishonesty, the CSSO will notify the Dean of Instruction/CIO (CIO) who will in turn convene an ad-hoc committee that will consist of the CIO plus two members, excluding the faculty member involved in the incident, chosen randomly from the Academic Senate. The CIO will serve as Chair. All members will be voting members. The ad-hoc committee will make a good-faith effort to schedule a hearing within ten business days of the establishment of the ad-hoc committee. The date, time and location of the hearing will be communicated in writing to all parties and will be scheduled at least ten business days from the date of notification.

At the hearing, the student will meet with the ad-hoc committee to hear the charges and present his/her side of the case. The student may bring an advocate, who may advise the student but not present the case. If the student misses the hearing, the committee may proceed with the process to completion. The committee shall determine by majority vote if the evidence presented by the student is significant enough to rescind the action imposed by the faculty member. The CIO will send a written notification within five business days of the committee's decision to the CSSO, faculty member, and the student.
