

In your financial aid application and supporting documents, you indicated that an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Income Tax Return (IRS 1040, 1040A, or 1 040EZ) for 2017 has not and will not be filed for you and/or your parents. The amount of income reported suggests that a tax return must be filed.

Enclosed are IRS instructions which explain who must file income taxes. Consult with a tax professional or the IRS for further clarification. Although the April 18, 2017 deadline may have been missed, it is not too late to comply with the law. (Note: if taxes were withheld, the filer may be eligible for an income tax refund.)

There are two issues of concern:

1. A tax return may need to be filed.
2. There is the possibility of a federal audit. Financial aid records are routinely audited, and it is possible that failure to file could result in future inquiry.

If you believe a tax return is not required to be filed, bring a letter from the IRS, or a copy of the applicable tax provision, or other documentation supporting the claim to non-filer status.

Please contact the Financial Aid Office if you have questions or need assistance in completing your financial aid application.

The following information is directly from the 2017 IRS Publication 17 published by the Internal Revenue Service and can be found on their website.

Table 1-1. 2017 Filing Requirements for Most Taxpayers

IF your filing status is...	AND at the end of 2017 you were...*	THEN file a return if your gross income was at least...
single	under 65	$10,400
	65 or older	$11,950
married filing jointly	under 65 (both spouses)	$20,800
	65 or older (one spouse)	$22,050
	65 or older (both spouses)	$23,300
married filing separately	any age	$ 4,050
head of household	under 65	$13,400
	65 or older	$14,950
qualifying widow(er) with dependent child	under 65	$16,750
	65 or older	$18,000

* If you were born on January 1, 1952, you are considered to be age 65 at the end of 2017. (If your spouse died in 2017 or if you are preparing a return for someone who died in 2017, see Pub. 501.)

 Gross income means all income you received in the form of money, goods, property, and services that isn't exempt from tax, including any income from sources outside the United States or from the sale of your main home (even if you can exclude part or all of it). Don't include any social security benefits unless (a) you are married filing a separate return and you lived with your spouse at any time during 2016 or (b) one-half of your social security benefits plus your other gross income and any tax-exempt interest is more than $25,000 ($32,000 if married filing jointly). If (a) or (b) applies, see the instructions for Form 1040 or 1040A or Pub. 915 to figure the taxable part of social security benefits you must include in gross income. Gross income includes gains, but not losses, reported on Form 8949 or Schedule D. Gross income from a business means, for example, the amount on Schedule C, line 7, or Schedule F, line 9. But, in figuring gross income, don't reduce your income by any losses, including any loss on Schedule C, line 7, or Schedule F, line 9.

 If you didn't live with your spouse at the end of 2017 (or on the date your spouse died) and your gross income was at least $4,050, you must file a return regardless of your age.

Table 1-2. 2017 Filing Requirements for Dependents (See chapter 3 to find out if someone can claim you as a dependent.)

If your parents (or someone else) can claim you as a dependent, use this table to see if you must file a return. (See Table 1-3 for other situations when you must file.)

In this table, unearned income includes taxable interest, ordinary dividends, and capital gain distributions. It also includes unemployment compensation, taxable social security benefits, pensions, annuities, and distributions of unearned income from a trust. Earned income includes salaries, wages, tips, professional fees, and taxable scholarship and fellowship grants. (See Scholarships and fellowships in chapter 12.) Gross income is the total of your earned and unearned income.

CAUTION If your gross income was $4,050 or more, you usually can't be claimed as a dependent unless you are a qualifying child. For details, see Exemptions for Dependents, in chapter 3.

Single dependents—Were you either age 65 or older or blind?
