I have experience in representing my fellow students in that I currently am a student representative for EOPS. As a Belgian, non-traditional student, I feel like my diverse background will bring life experience and the ability to successfully represent all other students to the table. I thrive when I am working with others and I am a team leader. I am passionate about improving student's overall experience at Feather River College and being a voice for my fellow students as well as improving what is possible to make Feather River College a better campus

Santiago Mendez

My qualifications, background and/or experiences that qualify me for this office:

I am an intelligent and driven student that has a unique view of the student body. I have been an off again, on again student for just over fourteen years and have made friends with many of the faculty, staff, and students along the way. I work on campus in the Eagle's Perch, which is a key centralized location on campus that interacts with the campus community daily, giving me insight into who is on campus and when. I am also involved with many of events that are currently happening on campus, I am one of two project managers for Katie Desmond's Sociology 140 Campus Climate Project and am a key member of the Eagle Pride club, spearheading many of the events that we have done this semester, and my work at the Eagle's Perch has me taking on many managerial responsibilities, including organizing catering for events, training new employees, and maintaining the Eagle's Perch webpage.

My vision for carrying out the mission of the Associated Students of FRC includes:

I hope that my drive and insight into the student body will help me bring their voice to the Board of Trustees and help serve the interest of my peers.

Dakota Ross

My qualifications, background and/or experiences that qualify me for the office chosen above are:

With a frequent and eager presence at Feather River College and the community of Quincy, my engagement with governance and student advocacy spans far beyond necessity into passion. I am truly grateful to be as involved in both our campus community and Quincy community as I am. When I am not attending classes, board meetings, or administrative meetings at FRC, I am responding to calls for assistance, participating in community events, or supporting the local community with the Quincy Fire Department. I have been a public participant in school board meetings throughout my entire time in high school and college and have experience interfacing with administration to seek out opportunities to implement improvements and committee assignments.

Accountability of elected officials and administration is a very important matter wherever you are. I believe that I have the unique skills and experience to create a more accountable and transparent organization, and to better deliver important information to students.

My vision for carrying out the mission of the Associated Students of FRC includes:

Advocacy is the voice of the voiceless and the resistance of oppression. Every student must be represented by their representatives, even when the bureaucracy resists. To work tirelessly to ensure student needs are met and concerns addressed is the ultimate cause for the work to be done within ASFRC. Every student represented, and no voice silenced.

Candidate for ASFRC President

Kylee Cox

My qualifications, background and/or experiences that qualify me for this office:

I have been in leadership groups in the past but never president. I would say I am a leader by example more than voice. I play on the women's basketball team and lead by example all the time. I want to be able to lead by voice and I have been working on it in practice.

My vision for carrying out the mission of the Associated Students of FRC includes:

I plan to bring in more ideas and make our school even better.

Candidate for ASFRC Vice President

Britney Blomquist

I have a lot of experience with taking leadership roles. I was the captain of the volleyball team for four years in high school, the Vice President of HOSA (a medical club in high school), and the secretary of National Honors Society. On top of this I am a dedicated, hardworking, and an organized person that is ready to help others and make sure the environment is safe but fun.

My vision for carrying out the mission of the Associated Students of FRC includes:

My vision for being Vice President would be to get more student involvement within campus to make their experience better. As a student athlete and with the populations of our campus predominantly student athletes, I would advocate for more opportunities and resources for help with a more balanced lifestyle.

Candidate for ASFRC Secretary/Treasurer

Jamie Johnson

My qualifications, background and/or experiences that qualify me for this office:

As secretary/treasurer, I'd be in charge of taking and posting meeting minutes, aiding in preparing a budget, and taking care of all of the official ASFRC communication. I have had a lot of experience in documentation and communication. Both my work as a TRiO Tutor and as a DSPS Front Desk assistant have required me to communicate and document everything from make-up tests to independent tutoring sessions. I have also been active in planning and executing FRC Eagle Pride events, such as a movie night, various booths, and the garden, throughout the year. Prior to college, I spent time working with my high school GSA on a similar scale for five years and had various jobs that required me to budget for a small business and/or document and communicate well.

My vision for carrying out the mission of the Associated Students of FRC includes:

I'd love to have FRC come together more often as a whole student body. I've met a lot of good people on campus and I would love to bring everyone together in the best way possible. I know we've struggled to do that with the pandemic and may still struggle going forward, but it's always worth trying our best to come together as a community.
