DISABILITY SERVICES

Mission of Disability Services

In support of the college's mission to identify and meet the educational needs of its community through innovative, dynamic programs, Disability Services ensures equal access to all campus programs and activities. The office promotes full participation in campus life for individuals with disabilities. Services are provided collaboratively to empower students to advocate for themselves and assume responsibility for their academic outcomes and personal goals.

Role of Disability Services

Disability Services provides intake, assessment of needs on campus, and facilitation of academic and other accommodations for students with disabilities attending Nunez Community College. Disability Services acts as a liaison between students and faculty, as well as with community agencies. Disability Services also provides training for faculty and staff to increase greater understanding of the needs and the advantages of a team approach to serving students with disabilities within the Nunez Community College community.

Any student with a learning, physical, psychological, or other disability that significantly impacts his or her academic pursuits is potentially eligible to receive services from Disability Services. The office interacts with students with disabilities in the determination and facilitation of auxiliary aids and services on an individual basis.

Eligibility for Services

A student is eligible for accommodations if he/she:

- is qualified for the program(s)
- is a person with a disability
- has identified himself/herself to the institution through Disability Services, and
- has presented appropriate documentation regarding the disability to the institution as required by Disability Services (see documentation requirements) and requires accommodation(s).

Note: Accommodations are effective after the student submits appropriate and complete documentation in accordance with Disability Services documentation policies, completes the Disability Services registration, and has presented and discussed the accommodation letter with his/her instructor (for testing accommodations, the accommodation letter must be presented to the instructor at least three business days prior to the examination date).

Disability Laws in Postsecondary Education

If you have a disability, you are entitled by law to equal access to college programs. There are two laws that protect persons with disabilities in postsecondary education: The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the 1990 Americans with Disabilities Act.

The Rehabilitation Act

Title V of The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 is generally regarded as the first civil rights legislation for people with disabilities on the national level. Section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act is a program access statute. It prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in any program or activity offered by an entity or institution receiving federal funds Disability Services.

Section 504 states (as amended):

No otherwise qualified person with a disability in the United States . . . shall, solely on the basis of disability, be denied access to, or the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity provided by any institution receiving federal financial assistance.

Under Section 504, institutions were required to appoint and maintain at least one person to coordinate its efforts to comply with the requirements of Section 504 (ADA Coordinator). This individual or office has the ongoing responsibility of assuring that the institution/agency/organization practices nondiscrimination on the basis of disability and should be included in any grievance procedures developed to address possible instances of discrimination brought against the institution. At Nunez Community College, the established office is the Disability Services Office.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

The ADA is a federal civil rights statute that prohibits discrimination against people with disabilities. There are four sections in the law: employment, government, public accommodations, and telecommunications. The ADA adds more protection for disabled persons to the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The ADA is designed to remove barriers that prevent qualified individuals with disabilities from enjoying the same opportunities that are available to persons without disabilities.

Colleges and Universities are covered in many ways under the ADA. Employment is addressed by Title I, accessibility provided by public and private entities Title II and III, and miscellaneous items are covered under Title V.

The ADA in Relation to Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act

Institutions that receive federal funds (such as Nunez Community College) are covered under Section 504. The ADA does not supplant Section 504, but in those situations where the ADA provides greater protection, the ADA standards apply. Therefore, colleges and universities must adhere to both the Rehabilitation Act and The Americans with Disabilities Act.

Definition of a Disability

Section 504 defines a person with a disability as a person:

- with a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities,
- who has a record of the disability, OR
- who is regarded as having the disability.

Physical Impairment

Any physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfiguration, or anatomical loss affecting one or more of the following body systems:

Neurological	Musculoskeletal
Special Sense Organs	Respiratory (including speech organs)
Cardiovascular	Reproductive
Digestive	Genitourinary
Hemic and Lymphatic	Skin and Endocrine

Mental Impairment

A mental impairment is defined as any psychological disorder such as a neurological psychological disability, organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness and specific learning disabilities.

Major Life Activity

A major life activity is defined as any function such as caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning and working.

Admittance to Nunez Community College

Qualified disabled applicants will not be denied admission solely on the basis of disability. It is not necessary, nor recommended, that students disclose their disability in the application process.

Once admitted to the College, students with disabilities requiring accommodation(s) must contact Disability Services to request the specific accommodation(s) desired and provide necessary documentation.

Confidentiality

Disability-related documentation is defined as any documentation provided to substantiate the student's disability status and need for accommodations (e.g., psychological, psychoeducational, neuropsychological, or medical evaluations; letters; or other information from physicians or medical records.) Disability-related information is kept confidential, and is not released to anyone outside the accommodations process or the direct chain of command, with the following exceptions: the student gives Disability Services a signed release to share disability-related information with the person(s) named on the release; as Disability Services is required and/or permitted by the law and/or a court order; the student is a direct threat to themselves or others; or a student makes a disability-related allegation, claim, grievance, appeal or disclosure to college attorneys for legal advice to or representation of the college.

Note: Students with disabilities have the right to review their files. This can be arranged by scheduling an appointment with the Disability Services Coordinator. Disability Services does not provide copies of documentation. Upon receipt of student documentation, Disability Services will create a student file. Upon registration, students will be encouraged to maintain a copy of the documentation. Original copies of documentation should be obtained from the originator of the documentation. Disability Services will retain a copy of all information within a student's file for five (5) years. Once the student is considered inactive for five years, the file may be destroyed. When a student with a disability requests accommodations, he/she should understand that some disability-related information may be provided on a need-to-know basis to College personnel in order to ensure that the student will receive appropriate accommodations. In most instances, College personnel need to know only what accommodations the student must be provided and that the student has been through the disability documentation review process with Disability Services. Otherwise, College personnel do not have access to information regarding a student's disability.

Faculty has the responsibility to work to ensure that all audio-visual materials used in class are accessible (e.g., that videos shown are captioned for students with hearing impairments and that the equipment used has captioning capabilities, that videos shown will be made with auditory description in some way or that written transcripts will be provided, etc.)

Faculty has the responsibility to consider incorporating principles of Universal Design for Learning in your teaching.

DOCUMENTATION

Documentation from a Qualified Professional

Colleges differ from high schools regarding the first step of providing academic accommodations. When a person with a disability needs an academic accommodation in high school, a team of people is assigned to that student to discuss classroom instructional accommodations. This is not the case with colleges and universities.

Note:

An IEP should include an evaluation (evaluation criteria for specific disabilities is included in this section).

The legislation states that to receive services from a college or university, a person with a disability must first disclose their disability to the institution. In most cases, the person should disclose this to Disability Services. The Disability Services Office will ask you to bring in documentation regarding your disability. This documentation must be no more than three (3) years old. The cost of the documentation is the responsibility of the student. If the initial documentation is incomplete or inadequate to determine the extent of the disability and reasonable accommodations, Disability Services has the discretion to require additional and updated documentation. Disability Services reserves the right to deny services or accommodations pending receipt of documentation.

ATTENTION DEFICIT/HYPERACTIVITY DISORDER

Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (often shortened to attention deficit disorder or AD/HD) may make it difficult for a person with this disability to sit calmly and give a task his/her full attention. The services available are designed to aid and encourage college student with AD/HD to achieve success on a college/university campus.

DOCUMENTATION GUIDELINES:

Students with Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder must provide documentation that meets the following criteria:

- Documentation must be comprehensive and current (within three (3) years prior to the students request for accommodation(s).
Professionals conducting assessments, rendering diagnoses of specific disabilities, and making recommendations for appropriate accommodation(s) must be qualified to do so (e.g., licensed psychiatrist psychologist, medical doctor, or other qualified mental health professional)
- The documentation must identify an unequivocal diagnosis of a specific disability
- The documentation must discuss functional limitations caused by the disability in an academic environment or the environment in which the student is requesting accommodation(s).
- The documentation should recommend accommodation(s) to compensate for identified functional limitations.
- The documentation should include a list of current medications, dosages, and existing (not possible) side effects.

ACCOMMODATIONS ARE DECIDED ON A CASE-BY-CASE BASIS AND MAY INCLUDE, BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO, THE FOLLOWING:

- Note taking
- Extended time for in-class assignments and examinations
- Examinations in a distraction-reduced environment
- Tape recorded lectures
- Individualized Registration Counseling

DEAF AND HARD OF HEARING

An individual with hearing loss frequently communicates using a combination of strategies that rely on residual auditory ability that may be enhanced by a hearing aid, cochlear implant and/or an assistive-listening device. These strategies are often supplemented through lip reading or other visual means.

Persons who are deaf may have different communication preferences and rely on residual hearing, lip reading, captioning, or perhaps an English-based or American Sign Language.

Available services are designed to provide communication access for deaf and hard of hearing students attending the College.

DOCUMENTATION GUIDELINES

- Documentation of a hearing loss is the basis for providing accommodations.
- The documentation for a hearing loss is typically an audiological evaluation. An audiogram must be included in the documentation. An audiological evaluation will indicate the presence of a hearing loss and its scope.

ACCOMMODATIONS ARE DECIDED ON A CASE-BY-CASE BASIS AND MAY INCLUDE, BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO, THE FOLLOWING:

- Individualized Registration Counseling
- Real-time captioning
- Sign language interpreting (ASL, PSE, and signed English)
- Note taking
- Assistive listening devices (ALDs)

DEAF and HARD OF HEARING STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Communication Facilitator (CF) services involve significant financial expenditures for the College. Students receiving this service must adhere to the following procedures:

- Students with hearing impairments must submit a written request for a CF on the Semester Accommodation Request Form prior to the beginning of the semester.
- If a student is unable to attend class, 24-hour notice to Disability Services is required unless the absence is due to illness or an emergency.
- Students should immediately notify Disability Services in writing if a CF is unsatisfactory (i.e., unsatisfactory ability to sign or caption, tardiness, absenteeism, unprofessional behavior, etc.).
- If a student needs to request a CF for additional College functions (other than normal class times), an Interpreter Request Form must be filled out and returned to Disability Services at least 24 hours in advance.

NO SHOW POLICY

If CF services have been requested and the student knows that he/she will be unable to attend class, the student should provide Disability Services with at least 24 hours advance notice so that the CF can be informed. In some situations, students may not be able to provide 24 hour notice; however, any advance notice is appropriate.

Failure to provide any advance notice is considered a "No Show." To give advance notice a student may:

- Contact Disability Services at 504-278-6422 (V) and speak either in person or leave a message (voice only), email Disability Services at mminor@nunez.edu.

Failure to provide notice will result in the following actions:

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. First "no show": | Formal Warning |
| 2. Second "no show": | 2 nd Formal Warning |
| 3. Third and subsequent "no show": | Services will automatically be temporarily placed on hold and a letter or e-mail will be sent to the student informing the student of the policy, appropriate procedures and to inquire if they wish to continue receiving interpreting or captioning services. Services will remain on hold until the student makes an appointment and meets with ADA Coord in Disability Services to discuss the situation and inform the Counselor of their wish to continue receiving services. |

EXCEPTION TO THE "NO SHOW" POLICY:

If three (3) or more "no shows" occur within the same two-week period, services will automatically be placed on hold with no warning and an e-mail will be sent to the student informing the student of the policy and the appropriate procedures. The services will remain on hold until the student makes an appointment with a Disability Services Counselor to discuss the situation and inform the Counselor of their wish to continue receiving services.

LEARNING DISABILITY

A learning disability (LD) may make it difficult for a person to receive information from his/her senses, process the information and communicate what he/she knows. A LD frequently causes difficulty in reading, writing, and/or mathematics. The services offered by Disability Services are designed to aid and encourage college students with LDs to achieve success on a college/university campus.

DOCUMENTATION GUIDELINES:

The documentation provided must include information that diagnoses a learning disability, describes the functional limitations in an educational setting, includes appropriate testing as outlined in #5 and all standardized scores, and indicates the severity and longevity of the learning disability for the purpose of determining academic adjustment(s) or other accommodations.

The following information is a guide to what must be contained in the documentation:

PHYSICAL (MEDICAL) DISABILITIES

Physical and systemic (medical) disabilities include a wide variety of disabilities that have definitive physical causes and significantly impact the physical functioning of the student with the disability, resulting in a substantial limitation of one or more major life activities. Students with temporary conditions (i.e., broken arm, broken leg, etc.) may also be eligible for services through Disability Services. Services are designed to facilitate access, to promote self-advocacy, and to afford students with physical and systemic disabilities the opportunity to achieve success at Nunez Community College.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Disclaimer: Accommodations are specifically individualized to each qualifying student's disability as determined by the Disability Services Office. No accommodations can fundamentally alter the essential requirements of any course.

ACCOMMODATIONS/AUXILIARY AIDS AND SERVICES

The accommodations/services available to students are based on the individual student's disability-related needs. Accommodations/services include, but are not limited to, the following:

ALTERNATIVE FORMAT (AF)

AF changes the format of the material to one that allows the student to have access to the material, such as enlarged print etc.

COMMUNICATION FACILITATORS (CF)

All captionists and interpreters that provide services at NUNEZ COMMUNITY COLLEGE are referred to as Communication Facilitators. Communication Facilitators must abide by the appropriate Code of Ethics/Conduct and agree to abide by the conditions outlined in the Nunez Community College Communication Facilitator Handbook.

- A. Sign Language Interpreters – Students are able to choose one or a combination of the following modes of communication: ASL, PSE, Signed English, and SEE II. If interpreting services are needed for any college-related events (i.e., instructor meetings, study sessions, tutoring sessions, etc.) other than the regular class schedule, contact Disability Services and submit an Interpreter Request Form at least 24 hours in advance.
- B. Captionist – Captionists are trained text-to-speech providers (C-Print Software) who type all verbal information from classes on a laptop computer. All verbal communication between the instructor and the student, including lectures and class discussions, are captioned and will appear on the laptop computer screen. Students who use captioning services may have a copy of the class transcript e-mailed to them. These transcripts cannot be sold, lent or given to any other student. Any violation of the above is grounds for termination of services at the discretion of the Disability Services Coordinator.

If, upon the basis of your disability documentation, you are entitled to captioning services, this accommodation does not, and should not replace or substitute for class attendance. Captionists will not be responsible for providing transcripts to you for missed class periods, unless your accommodation is "Consideration for Absences." This should be discussed with the captionist at the beginning of the semester and is subject to review for approval by the Disability Services Coordinator.

Consideration for Absences Related to Disability

This is an accommodation that may be given to students who have a disability that may cause them to occasionally miss class. All the essential components of the class must be met regardless of the accommodation. This accommodation is only applicable if class is missed due to a disability-related problem. If students miss class, they are responsible for contacting their faculty member and Disability Services Office immediately and making up any missed work as soon as possible. Class attendance is extremely important and while a student may have consideration for absences, too many missed classes will make it difficult to complete course requirements.

CONSIDERATION FOR SPELLING

This is an accommodation that allows students not to be penalized for spelling. All essential components of the course must be met regardless of the accommodation. A spell checker may be used in the place of consideration for spelling.

DISTRACTION-REDUCED ENVIRONMENT

This is an environment in which distractions are minimized while the student is taking his or her examination (i.e., not with the rest of the class.)

EXTENDED TIME

In-class Assignments and Examinations – Extended time on in-class assignments and examinations, in most cases, will be equal to time-and-a-half of the usual time allotted for the assignment or examination. Students are required to work out arrangements for extended time on in-class assignments and examinations with their instructors at least three (3) business days in advance. If the instructor cannot provide the accommodation, please contact Disability Services.

Out-of-class Assignments – Extended time on out-of-class assignments will be assessed on a case-by-case basis and for each particular assignment. Students are required to see the Disability Services Coordinator when there is a need for this accommodation for a specific assignment when the assignment is announced. An additional Semester Accommodation Letter for each specific assignment may be given to the student to give to his/her instructor.

INDIVIDUALIZED REGISTRATION COUNSELING

Students with disabilities, registered with Disability Services, are eligible for Individualized Registration Counseling. The purpose of this accommodation is to allow students to select their classes with consideration for medication schedules, other health concerns, or learning styles. It is the student's responsibility to utilize this option.

NO SCANTRONS

This accommodation allows the student to write his/her answers directly on the exam.

NOTE TAKER

A note-taker is a person, typically a student in the class, who takes notes and provides them to a student with a disability.

PRIVATE ROOM

Use of a private room provides a testing environment in which the student is the only person in the room except for an exam proctor. Documentation is needed to determine private room eligibility.

READERS

A reader is a person who is available to read in-class assignments and exams for students.

SCRIBES

A person who is available to write for students on in-class assignments and exams is a scribe.

SEIZURE LETTERS

This letter gives the faculty member directions on what to do if the student has a seizure in class.

TAPE-RECORDED TEXTBOOKS AND OTHER ALTERNATIVE FORMATS

Disability Services is not responsible for the acquisition of taped or electronic textbooks for students who have vision, learning and physical disabilities. However, Disability Services will assist students with obtaining these materials if verification is required by the publisher.

PROCEDURE FOR ENROLLING WITH DISABILITY SERVICES

DOCUMENTATION

After completing the Nunez Community College enrollment process, bring documentation from your doctor/therapist to Disability Services. Note: An IEP should include an evaluation (see documentation guidelines for further details). Students should drop off a copy of their documentation for review in the Disability Services Office. Students will be contacted within 1 to 2 business days to schedule an appointment with the Disability Services Coordinator. At this time students will fill out an application, discuss disability-related needs and complete a Semester Accommodation Request Form. The Counselor will also review all policies and procedures for the office.

Students may request academic accommodation(s), but the college is not required to provide the specific accommodation requested, if another accommodation is reasonable and effective. A student is required to submit "Documentation of Disability" before the initial application for services. Documentation must specifically support the need for any accommodations requested. No accommodations will be given without appropriate documentation. If another evaluation is obtained after the initial intake or the disability has changed in some way, specifically worsened and limitations have increased, further documentation must be presented to Disability Services. All accommodations are decided on a case-by-case basis and are subject to change if disability-based needs change. Disability Services is not responsible for reevaluation expenses.

Accommodations are NOT retroactive.

ACCOMMODATION IMPLEMENTATION

Students are responsible for deciding how they will use accommodations.

Students must submit a Semester Accommodation Request Form every semester to receive services through Disability Services. Students will receive Accommodation Letters based on the agreed upon accommodation set forth in the intake meeting with Disability services Coordinator. Students are responsible for distributing their Accommodation Letters to their instructors. Disability Services will not mail letters to Instructors.

PROCEDURE ORIENTATION

Disability Services personnel provide a demonstration of procedures for accessing accommodations to ensure student success.

RETENTION

All students must fill out a Semester Request Form every semester to remain in the Disability Services program.

For each subsequent semester it is always best to request accommodations at the beginning of the semester. No Accommodation Letters will be given out the last week of classes or final exam week, unless it is requested by the Instructor. Special circumstances will be taken into consideration. The instructor must legally give the student a reasonable accommodation, only if the Instructor receives the letter in a reasonable amount of time before the test. This is typically three (3) days prior to the exam date.

TESTING PROCEDURES

Students are required to request examinations through Disability Services at least three (3) business days prior to the examination date through email to mminor@nunez.edu. Students are also required to provide a Testing Form to their instructors for each exam to be taken with Disability Services at least three (3) business days prior to the examination date. The Testing Form is available on Nunez Community College/Disability Services website.

Note: The three (3) days notice is to ensure that all accommodation needs can be met and all exams have been received.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Students do not need to disclose the nature of their disability to their Instructor in order to access accommodations.

SPECIALIZED SERVICES

Specialized testing services such as reader, captionist, Interpreter etc. should be indicated on the accommodation request form. Students must request these services three (3) business days before they are needed.

Students who would like to enroll with/receive accommodation(s) from Disability Services must complete the two forms displayed on the following pages.*

STEPS FOR RECEIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

At the beginning of each subsequent semester, students must request accommodations for that semester. This can be done by filling out a Semester Accommodation Request Form.

Students will receive accommodation letters based on in-take interview. Letter will be emailed to the student's Nunez Community College email address. Students are responsible for distributing their Accommodation Letters to their Instructors. Disability Services will not mail letters to Instructors.

For each subsequent semester it is always best to request accommodations at the beginning of the semester. No Accommodation Letters will be given out the last week of classes or final exam week. The Instructor should be given advance notice of at least three (3) business days prior to the exam date in order to administer reasonable accommodations.

Receiving accommodations should not be regarded as giving the student special privileges, but rather as minimizing the impact of the disability to the greatest extent possible. It is important to remember that the instructor expects the same academic performance from disabled students as the other students. The ADA and Section 504 did not intend that institutions pass students as a result of their disability. Disabled students must adhere to the same codes of conduct required by the college for all students.

SERVICES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

International students are entitled to the same protection from nondiscrimination on the basis of disability as are U.S. citizens. Section 504 states the prohibition of discrimination covers any otherwise qualified person with a disability in the United States. Section 504 does not state the student has to be a citizen of the United States. However, students do not qualify for services because English is their second language.

AUDITED CLASSES

The legislation states any student with a disability is eligible for services if the institution receives federal assistance. Therefore, audited classes are no different than classes taken for credit.

PERSONAL SERVICES SUCH AS PERSONAL CARE ATTENDANTS (PCA)

The legislation indicates universities/colleges are not responsible to provide PCA's, readers for personal use or study, or other personal devices, transportation or services unrelated to the student's education.

TESTING PROCEDURES

Note: Students must give a copy of their Accommodation Letter to their instructor before testing accommodations can be utilized.

1. An email must be sent to mminor@nunez.edu to request a testing time with Disability Services at least three (3) business days prior to the examination date. This email should include: Your Name, Student ID#, Instructor's Name, Date and time of test and Course Name.
2. Students must provide their Instructor with a Testing Form at least three (3) business days prior to the examination date. The Instructor will turn in this form along with a copy of the exam to Disability Services.

3. Students must show up to Disability Services on time the day of the scheduled examination. If you are more than fifteen (15) minutes late, your Instructor will need to be contacted for permission to administer the examination.
4. Students must leave all materials not required for their examination in the Disability Services Office or with the Disability Services Coordinator. This includes personal items such as: purses, cellular phones, mp3 players, etc.

TESTING ROOM PROCEDURES FOR STUDENTS

Before entering the Testing Room:

1. Turn off cell phones and place in your backpack or purse.
2. Take bathroom and/or water break before beginning testing.
3. Make certain that you have all necessary testing supplies in hand including paper, pen/pencil, calculator, blue book and any other needed materials. Disability Services will check paper and calculators.
4. Be very quiet when entering the testing room.
5. Work quietly.
6. Give completed examination to test monitor or place in the assigned box in the monitor's office.
7. Remember: If you leave the Testing Room for any reason, your test is over.

EXTENDED-TIME ALLOTMENTS FOR EXAMINATIONS

Extended time allotments are determined on a case-by-case basis**

MW or TTh classes (1 hr, 15 minutes)

75 minute class

Extended time is 37.5 additional minutes

Total time for exam: 1 hour 52.5 minutes

Double time is 75 additional minutes

Total time for exam: 2 hours 30 minutes

Note: All time allotments may change according to how much time the instructor indicates the class will receive.

GRIEVANCE AND APPEAL PROCEDURES

ACCOMMODATION DISAGREEMENT PROCEDURES

Any student who disagrees with the academic accommodations being presented should speak to the Disability Services Coordinator. Express your concerns and be prepared to offer alternative solutions. Remember that Nunez Community College has to provide appropriate academic accommodations, but if the institution can provide you with an auxiliary aid that is equally as effective and less expensive as the one being requested, the community college is not required to provide the more expensive one.

Example: The institution does not have to buy the biggest and best computer and printer if a system is already available which would be just as effective. If, after the intervention from Disability Services, there is not satisfaction on the part of the student regarding the proposed accommodation or the provision of an accommodation, the student may file a formal grievance. The procedures can be found in the Nunez Community College Student Handbook under Grievance Policy.

GRIEVANCES WITH OTHER NUNEZ COMMUNITY COLLEGE DEPARTMENTS OR SERVICES

It is the practice of the Disability Services that issues concerning accommodations of students with disabilities in academic and other programs and activities be resolved between the student requesting the accommodation and the Nunez Community College employee representing the department within which the academic program or service is located. If the student feels that all efforts to resolve the issue have proven unsuccessful, he/she may file a formal grievance. Nunez Community College's Policy on Persons with Disabilities includes the process for filing a formal grievance.

Students with disabilities are responsible for contacting Disability Services, if reasonable accommodations are not implemented in an effective and timely manner. Disability Services will work with Nunez Community College personnel and the students to resolve disagreements regarding recommended accommodations.

Conflict resolution should be attempted at the lowest level possible. Faculty members and students with disabilities should first consult with the Disability Services Coordinator when accommodation-related concerns arise.

Faculty members who question the legitimacy of an accommodation recommended by Disability Services should continue to afford the accommodation to the student while the appeals procedures are implemented.

Complaints alleging that a qualified individual with a disability has been excluded from participation in, been denied the benefits of, or otherwise has been subjected to discrimination in employment or program activities may be filed under any of the following grievance procedures as appropriate:

Students – Academic Appeals policy or other student complaint procedures

Faculty – Faculty Grievance Procedures as outlined in the Faculty Handbook

The following procedures will be used for all complaints or grievances alleging violations of the ADA or Section 504 (taken with permission directly from University of New Orleans' Grievance/Complaint Procedures for Persons with Disabilities):

*All complaints alleging violation of the ADA or Section 504 must be made in writing to the appropriate department within sixty (60) calendar days of the alleged violation or claim of failure to provide reasonable accommodation(s). The written complaint must specify the time, place, and nature of the act claimed to be in violation and may be supplemented by supporting documents and/or affidavits from persons having firsthand knowledge of the facts. A student complaint must be filed within thirty (30) school days of the beginning of the first term in which enrolled, following that in which the alleged violation occurred.

*The appropriate department will investigate all pertinent facts and circumstances in support of the alleged violation within twenty (20) working days of receipt of the complaint, to include review and verification of all documentation and testimony by involved and/or knowledgeable parties.

*The investigating department may attempt resolution of a complaint through mutual agreement of the affected parties at any point during the course of the investigation. Should such resolution be achieved, the investigation shall be ended. The terms and conditions of the resolution agreement shall be issued to the charging party and the appropriate administrator of the party or department charged within ten (10) working days for review and signatures.

*Where resolution through mutual agreement is not achieved, written findings from the investigation regarding probable cause, along with a recommendation for resolving the complaint, shall be forwarded simultaneously to the charging party, the responsible administrator, the charged department, and the Director of Disability Services immediately upon completion of the investigation.

*The responsible administrator shall take final action on the recommendation within ten (10) working days after receipt of the recommendation. Consultation will be provided by the college's ADA Compliance Officer.

*Either party may appeal the findings of the investigating department to the Chancellor (or the Chancellor's designee) by filing a request for a review of a complaint alleging discrimination on the basis of disability or failure to provide reasonable accommodation within ten (10) calendar days of receipt of the finding.

*Within seven (7) calendar days of receipt of the initial findings, the Chancellor may render a final decision on the complaint or choose to employ the hearing panel to review the appeal. If the hearing panel is employed, there is a three to five-member hearing panel (already appointed) to review the case. The hearing panel will conduct a hearing, consider evidence (and testimony if necessary), in justification of the appeal, and render its decision within twenty-one (21) days of the appointment. The Chancellor may accept, reject or modify the decision of the review panel.

*Upon final resolution of a complaint, copies of records will be forwarded to and maintained by Disability Services. All records relating to complaints of failure to provide reasonable accommodations are evaluative in nature and all medical information contained in complaint records shall be deemed confidential. (If the hearing panel is brought in to review a case, it is at this point that the documentation can be disclosed to the panel.)

*A complainant with a disability who believes that his or her grievance has not been handled appropriately should bring this to the attention of the Disability Services Coordinator.

*If the issue cannot be resolved at the college level, you may contact the Office of Civil Rights or the Department of Justice. File complaints under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act with the Office of Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Education (OCR), or those under Titles II or III of the ADA with the Department of Justice. If unsure, file with the Department of Justice, who will refer the complaint to the appropriate agency. *Nunez Community College's grievance procedures must be followed prior to contacting any outside agency.

Peripheral Neuropathy: A condition caused by damage to the nerves in the peripheral nervous system which includes nerves that run from the brain and spinal cord to the rest of the body.

Physical or mental impairment: Any physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfigurement, or anatomical loss affecting one or more of the following body systems: neurological; musculoskeletal; special sense organs; respiratory, including speech organs; cardiovascular; reproductive; digestive; genitourinary; hemic and lymphatic; skin; and endocrine; or any mental or psychological disorder, such as mental retardation, organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness, and specific learning disabilities (Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990).

Qualified individual with a disability: An individual with a disability who, with or without reasonable modification to rules, policies, or practices, the removal of architectural, communication, or transportation barriers, or the provision of auxiliary aids and services, meets the essential eligibility requirements for the receipt of services or the participation in programs or activities provided by a public entity (Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990).

Reader: Volunteer or employee of an individual with a disability (e.g., visual impairment, learning disability) who reads printed material in person or records to audio-tape.

Reading system: Hardware and software designed to provide access to printed text for people with visual impairments, mobility impairments, or learning disabilities. Character recognition software controls a scanner that takes an image of printed page, converts it to computer text using recognition software and then reads the text using a synthesized voice.

Refreshable Braille Display: Hardware connected to a computer that echoes screen text on a box that has cells consisting of pins that move up and down to create Braille characters.

Repetitive Stress Injury (RSI): This disability may be chronic or acute and usually is described as pain caused by overuse of extremities, usually hands and wrists.

Scanning input: A switch-based method of controlling a computer. Activations of a switch will, in order, bring up a control panel that upon subsequent switch activations, allow a user to focus in on a desired control or keystroke. Custom scanning layouts can be created for a variety of purposes and programs and may also be used in a communication device.

Screen enlargement: Hardware and/or software that increases the size of characters and text on a computer screen.

Screen reader: Software used to echo text on a computer screen to audio output, often used by people who are blind, with visual impairments, or with learning disabilities.

Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act: Legislation that requires Federal Agencies to develop, procure, and use accessible electronic and information technology.

Sensory impairment: A disability that affects touch, sight and/or hearing.

Sign language: Manual communication commonly used by the deaf. The gestures or symbols in sign language are organized in a linguistic way. Each individual gesture is called a sign. Each sign has three distinct parts; the handshape, the position of the hands, and the movement of the hands. American Sign Language (ASL) is the most commonly used sign language in the United States. Deaf people from different countries speak different sign languages.

Specific Learning Disability: Disorder in one or more of the basic psychological processes involved in understanding or in using language, spoken or written, which may manifest itself in difficulties listening, thinking, speaking, reading, writing, spelling, or doing mathematical calculations. Frequent limitations include hyperactivity, distractibility, emotional instability, visual and/or auditory perception difficulties and/or motor limitations, depending on type(s) of learning disability.

Speech impairment: Problems in communication and related areas such as oral motor function, ranging from simple sound substitution to the inability to understand or use language or use the oral-motor mechanism for functional speech.

Speech input or speech recognition: A method of controlling a computer and creating text by dictation. Speech input software is combined with a microphone.

Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD) or Teletypewriter (TTY): A device which enables someone who has a speech or hearing impairment to use a telephone when communicating with someone else who has a TDD/TTY. TDD/TTYs can be used with any telephone, and one needs only a basic typing ability to use them.

Trackball: A mouse alternative that is basically an upside-down mouse. Useful for some people with mobility impairments because it isolates pointer movement from button clicking.

Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI): Open and closed head injuries resulting in impairments in one or more areas, including cognition, language, memory, attention, reasoning, abstract thinking, judgment, problem-solving, sensory, perceptual, and motor abilities, psychosocial behavior, physical functions, information processing, and speech. The term does not apply to brain injuries that are congenital, degenerative, or induced by birth trauma.

Universal design: Designing programs, services, tools, and facilities so that they are usable, without modification, by the widest range of users possible, taking into account a variety of abilities and disabilities.

Universal design of instruction: The design of instructional materials and activities that make learning achievable by students with a wide variety of abilities and disabilities.

Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973: Act prohibiting discrimination on the basis of disability which applies to any program that receives federal financial support. Section 504 of the Act is aimed at making educational programs and facilities accessible to all students. Section 508 of the Act requires that electronic office equipment purchased through federal procurement meets disability access guidelines.

Virtual keyboard: Software used to emulate a keyboard. A picture of a keyboard is displayed on a computer screen and the user points and clicks on the pictures of keys to enter text.

Vision impairments: Complete or partial loss of ability to see, caused by a variety of injuries or diseases including congenital defects. Legal blindness is defined as visual acuity of 20/200 or less in the better eye with correcting lenses, or widest diameter of visual field subtending and angular distance no greater than 20 degrees.

Word prediction: Software that reduces the number of keystrokes needed to type words and sentences. As characters are entered on either a standard, alternative or virtual keyboard, suggested completions of the word that has been started are provided to the user.
