SLCC continues to assess its institutional needs and prioritize the best use of HEERF Institutional Funds to address the significant changes to the delivery of instruction due to the coronavirus, including costs associated with technology, cleaning & disinfecting supplies/equipment, PPE supplies, expanding library access, and faculty and staff training.

Internal Controls

SLCC follows established institutional accounting policy and procedure “Allowable Costs and Cost Principles” as a measure of internal control to ensure that funds are used only for allowable purposes and under existing cash management principles. Those controls include utilization of the accounting system’s fund structure to segregate funding by source to identify and track the activity of that with externally imposed restrictions. SLCC requests HEERF reimbursement only after allowable costs have been incurred. Transaction documentation for HEERF draws are reviewed by the Director of Accounting prior to submission, with draws initiated in the Department of Education’s G5 site by separate personnel. Reconciliation of funding received in banking records and accounting transactions for receipt are also segregated to additional, separate personnel.

In her role as Director of Accounting, Ms. Carla Ortego will certify that the use of the funds is in accordance with cash management principles and appropriate internal controls. Ms. Ortego will submit requests to draw down funds to SLCC’s Senior Accountant, Ms. Sarah Morrow. Ms. Morrow will review and approve the request prior to draw down and will ensure that the funds, once received, are allocated to the correct account within the institutional accounting system to reimburse the costs. Information on the expenditure of grant funds also will be shared with the Office of Grants Management for review and preparation of reports.
