The fall 2026 LCTC System Power-Based Violence Report includes a summary incident reporting form, spreadsheet with detailed formal complaint information as required, and a progress report of Power-Based Violence training completions as of September 30, 2026. The reporting period for this report is April 1, 2026-September 30, 2026. Institutions have until December 31, 2026 to complete required Power-Based Violence and Confidential Advisor training for calendar year 2026. The final annual training report will be submitted separately in January 2027.

As a system, 80 percent (80%) of responsible employees and ninety-six percent (96%) of designated confidential advisors have already completed their required Power-Based Violence training for 2026. The LCTC System is required to have a minimum of forty-two (42) confidential advisors, based on an FTE ratio of 1:1500. As of the submission of this report, the System maintains a pool of fifty-six (56) confidential advisors, each who completes a minimum of seven (7) hours of annual training.

Systemwide initiatives this year include the following:

- Comprehensive training agenda, supported by recurring legislative allocation. Since 1/1/2026, 143 faculty and staff trained over 74.5 hours:
    - 14 training opportunities provided to all colleges at System's expense. Topics included:
        - Clery reporting
        - Maxient case resolution processes and workflows
        - Title IX Coordinator Level 1 Certification
        - Title IX Coordinator Level 2 Certification
        - Case Resolution and Decision Making
        - Live Hearings
        - Managing Parallel Processes: TIX, PBV, Student Conduct, TVI, Employee Conduct

System service to the field this year includes the following:

- System Title IX Coordinator serves as designee on statewide Power-Based Violence Review Panel;
- System Title IX Coordinator reappointed to Louisiana Foundation Against Sexual Assault (LaFASA) Executive Board;
- System Title IX Coordinator served as national mentor to Title IX Coordinators at Thaddeus Stevens College of Technology in Lancaster, PA, and Olympic College in Bremerton, WA;
- System Title IX Coordinator appointed to the national Association of Title IX Administrators (ATIXA) Civility and Respect Community of Practice;

- System Title IX Coordinator elected to the ATIXA Advisory Board.

During this six-month reporting period, there were thirty-three (33) reports related to Title IX, Power-Based Violence, and/or related Retaliation. Title IX offices offered supportive measures to all parties who filed reports. Supportive measures included counseling services, referrals to local advocacy resources and support groups, class scheduling modifications, class modality modifications, various security interventions, and no contact orders.

Percentages use the total within each category. The two disposition tables are mutually exclusive; each of the 33 reports is counted in only one disposition table.*

The average number of days from initial report to case closure was fifty-six (56) days. Factors that impact time to resolution include, but are not limited to, party incarceration, response rate of parties and witnesses, parties on medical leave, campus closures, evolving witness lists, staff capacity, and complex investigations. Resolution for any open reports from the previous spring 2026 System report will be updated for these open cases in the annual report in December 2026.

While any number of formal complaints is alarming, we are encouraged that our efforts are more effective in creating a culture of reporting and campuses that can address campus safety more proactively. We understand that students who feel safe and supported are students who can persist and complete their educational goals. LCTC is committed to forging ahead to create safe campuses, where students, faculty, and staff feel comfortable reporting any incidents that create obstacles to learning and work.
