PLEASE CHECK POWERSCHOOL – Parents now is the time to check Powerschool to monitor how your children are progressing with their at home learning. During this unprecedented time, it's important that students are reminded the expectation is that learning will continue, and they may need additional supports and check-ins from parents. Please contact Ms. Gualtieri, at sgualtieri@eppingsd.org if you need assistance to log in.

Due to the power outage on Tuesday, 3/24, students have an additional day to complete assigned class work. Please contact grade level teachers with any questions. Thank you.

Although our school and offices are closed, staff and teachers are working remotely. If students are unable to complete assigned work due to illness or personal reasons, the attendance line will still be available to report your child as "excused absence". Ms. Gualtieri and classroom teachers can also communicate with the office and will be tracking attendance as well.

Students can check out the "Joke of the Day" on our social media! This silly and groan-worthy part of our daily announcements can keep us all connected and smiling. Reach out to Ms. G at sgualtieri@eppingsd.org if you would like to submit a joke or riddle. Jokes will be recorded by a "guest" announcer and posted daily.

Mr. DeGuttola has created a classroom site dedicated to EMS Guidance services. Below is the classroom code so students can access it.

Classroom Code: 2v3jpps

Here is a list of resources for families who may be in need of support:

211 - statewide resources

Seacoast Mental Health - Community Mental Health Center: 431-6703 and 772-2710

Epping Community Church: 679-5542

If your student receives counseling services through an IEP or 504 plan, they will have the opportunity to continue counseling through remote counseling activities. Counselors and School Psychologists will be reaching out to those students and families individually to explain what the individual plan is based on student needs and IEP goals.

Sincerely, Epping School District Counseling Department
