Data point of the month: ODR's entered from February 26 to March 29: •58 total referrals • 13/48 took place between 12:15 and 12:30 (recess overlap for grades 4,5,and 6) •10 were for one student now on an intensive behavior plan. Highlights of the past Month: Have you heard of Superflex? He's a superhero in our new social-thinking curriculum being used with 50 of our students in grades 1-6. The goal is to provide a fun and engaging way for students to improve their behavioral flexibility and ultimately develop better self-monitoring. The concept is based on the idea that we all have a superhero - SUPERFLEX - in our brains - and he is constantly battling the "Team of Unthinkables" - a variety of unexpected behaviors that try to take over. The students have been eager to take part in these activities. 	Data point of the month: March ODR Data 3/1-3/30: -Average of 2.6 ODRs per day (National Average is 1.08) -52 total referrals -92% of students received no ODRs for the month of March. (This shows that PBIS is working at the Tier 1 Level.) 2.4% received 3 or more ODRs in March and account for 67.3% of March ODRs. -Four of the six students with 3 or more ODRs are currently on individual behavior plans. Staff will work on interventions for the remaining two. Highlights of the past Month: Last Month Mrs. Larsen was our first Hootie Award winner for her dedication to the use of PBIS strategies. This month she recognized Mrs. Susi for her work in supporting PBIS through implementing behavior interventions and entering of behavior data. Congratulations Mrs. Susi! Thank you for your hard work! Thank you to Horace Mann for sponsoring this award!  As you may remember from last month, Mrs. Toothaker has been nominated by a	Data point of the month: March ODR data: 88 total referrals Two students account for 20 of those, and have started more intensive behavior plans. We had 89% attendance at Student-Led conferences. The snow storm prior to conference day hurt attendance, as many teachers had conferences scheduled on those dates that were unable to be rescheduled. Our students shared great learning with their families!  Highlights of the past Month: Our Kindergarten students gave a great performance at our last Panther Pride Assembly. Way to go K students! Three Destination Imagination Teams from Poland Recreation competed in Orono at the State competition, and represented our district well! We are in the middle of our MEA testing, and our students are doing such an amazing job, giving it their best and focusing on that work. We are proud of their efforts and can't wait to see the results.
