Wings

The flyers for the next session will be coming home with kids today, Oct. 25. Remember spots are filled on a first come first served basis. The next session begins November 4th. If you need to contact Sage about anything Wings related, please use the Wings pager, 802-290-1030

UNICEF - Be a Halloween HERO!

Students will be bringing home a UNICEF box next week. Please encourage your child to ask for contributions as they trick or treat. We are trying to beat last year's totals of 59 boxes and $400 raised. Boxes should be returned to the homeroom teachers. We'd like them all in by Friday, November 8th.

School was out BUT Wings was IN!!!!

Middle School Summer experiences included a new Outdoor Adventure Camp. Camp Director, Joe Carter, escorted campers to local swimming holes, and heron preserves, as well as challenged them to "climb the walls" at Marlboro College. Thanks to the generosity of the Gore family campers were able to enjoy the beauty of Lake Raconda in canoes and kayaks, and improve swimming skills under the guidance of lifeguard Sophia.

Also new to middle school this summer—

Counselors in Training! This program allows future high school mentors to experience the challenges and rewards of being a Celebrate Summer counselor!

Celebrate Summer Camp celebrates record numbers!

CS campers dissected sharks, experienced farming at Boyd's Farm, designed & created Claymation videos, learned to build fire with flint and follow a compass home, danced to a story line, and tie dyed socks. The Stepping Stones campers discovered the joy of the water tables and reading nooks, but more importantly, left confident that next year as they entered the Kindergarten classroom they would know how much

Classic tales with a new...SPIN cast

Wings Performing Arts Camp packed the house in July for three incredible performances filled with dance, acrobatics, circus arts & laughs! This production written by Wing's own Ananssi, Aiden Kennedy, thrilled audiences with tales retold in a very Wings way!

Wings Director Andy Hauty has moved on to exciting adventures in France while spending more time with his family. The Wings community and staff thank him for his years of guidance, love and laughter.

New Co-Directors Maria Stewart and Katie Boyd, along with the incredible Wings staff, are excited to soar to new heights for after school and summer programming!

2019 Toys for Kids

Marine Corps League Brattleboro Det. 798 and Auxiliary Unit 798, is scheduling appointments for those parents in need of assistance this Christmas. Appointments will be scheduled November 4th through November 22nd. You can access this program by calling 802-451-6422, WEEKDAYS ONLY and DO NOT Call ON VETERANS DAY (Nov. 11th), between 4:30pm and 7:00 PM. Please have social security or medicaid numbers available for your children ages 12 and under when you call, and bring their cards when you come in for your appointment. Parents are the only people allowed in to pick up gifts. Finally, please remember this program is ONLY for those families who have a genuine need of assistance. Thank you for your cooperation.

Operation Warm

We want to thank the Rotary club for running this program and getting winter gear out to our community! You are AWESOME!
