Parents of students who are involved in the destruction of school district property will be expected to make restoration or pay an amount equal to the cost of repair or replacement of the property. In addition, the students will face disciplinary action which may include referral to legal authorities.