

Bridges Prep News & Notes: May 11, 2018

From Mr. Wilson's desk ...

Talent Show! Bridges Prep held its Second Annual Talent Show April 27 to kick off the Block Party. It was an amazing evening filled with nearly 30 talented acts including singers, dancers, comics and musicians. We are so proud of all of our talented students.

The judges' picks for the evening were: K-2, Czarina Unfried; Grades 3-4, Makayla Lapp; Grades 5-6, Olivia Dyas, Alexis Brinker, Andrea Forshee, and Maddie Stegall (shown in the photo); and Grades 7-10, Brooklyn Ryherd. Thank you to all our talented students, the staff and volunteers who made it all possible, and to our community for supporting these talented young people!

Congrats to our first inductees to National Honor Society! Joining the prestigious academic society from Bridges Prep earlier this month were Dawson Cadd, Campbell Crum, Colby Escoe, Nate Gore, Kyle King, Emalee Payne, Courtney Pulaski, Suchir Shetty and Jamie Smith . Well done to all!

From the Board ... This week we formally adopted our school budget for the upcoming year. One of our immediate financial challenges is paying for the temporary modular classrooms and their installation, which is needed ASAP for classes to start in August, and then finalizing our loan to pay for actual construction of the new facility. We will have a much clearer picture of our finances in the late fall, and we will make adjustments to our budget then as needed.
