LIMITED PILOT UNDERWAY / Classroom audio & camera enhancement

Two district schools are participating in a limited pilot using technology designed to enhance the instructional experience for students and teachers. Nature Coast Technical and Floyd Elementary each have 2 teachers who have volunteered to try enhanced audio and video devices in their classrooms.

Research indicates that instructional delivery is more effective when teachers use a mic and amplify their lesson through a speaker system. As part of the enhancement pilot, teachers may choose to use the camera feature which allows teachers full control over when or if they choose to activate the video feature. Teachers may choose to record video of the lesson or stream live to students who may be absent, in ISS or, the lesson could be streamed to a classroom where a substitute is in place. The decision to use the camera feature is entirely at the discretion of the teacher.

Beyond approval for the limited pilot, the district has made no decision as to a full implementation. Throughout the pilot window, district leaders will monitor outcomes and feedback from teachers at both schools.
