

D. S. Parrott Middle School 2024-2025 Parent and Family Engagement Plan Summary

Schools that receive Title I funding must develop a written Parent and Family Engagement Plan (PFEP) and share it with parents. The plan sets expectations and tells how the school will implement activities and processes to involve parents. This plan guides our work with parents and is revised each year with input from parents and staff. For your convenience, the Parent and Family Engagement Plan is available upon request in the front office and on our website.

Involvement of Parents in the Planning, Review and Improvement of Title I Programs D. S. Parrott Middle School annually reviews Title I programs through a Comprehensive Needs Assessment that includes stakeholder input regarding spending priorities based on student needs. This process includes monthly face-to-face School Advisory Council/Title I Committee meetings, printed surveys sent home, and online surveys from the school and district.	Building Capacity for Parents to Become Involved D. S. Parrott Middle School provides parental workshops and subject-area family events as well as other resources that can be used at home. When possible, DSPMS will offer face-to-face workshops and events for parents to access resources and information for working with their children. This may include coupling some events such as SAC meetings and Parent Workshops to allow parents to have input on programs and receive resources at a single event.
Coordination and Integration with Other State and Federal Programs D. S. Parrott Middle School uses a variety of resources to support our families. We coordinate with the Hernando County School District Title I staff and Title II staff for professional development and technical assistance, Title III, McKinney-Vento staff, and the HCSD ESE department to increase communication regarding parental engagement activities during informational nights, classroom events, and school-wide activities. This increases the resources we are able to offer families by sharing opportunities that may be occurring at other sites in the district.	Professional Development Offered to School Staff in the Area of Parental Engagement Each year, DSPMS provides professional development for teachers and school staff to support family engagement. Topics include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Title I Annual Meeting Procedures and Outreach• Using the Title I Compact to Support Family Engagement• Meeting the Needs of Families in Transition (McKinney-Vento)
Steps the School Will Take to Conduct an Effective Title I Annual Meeting DSPMS convenes a Title I Annual Meeting during the first nine weeks to provide parents with print and verbal communication regarding Title I funded programs and resources at the school. DSPMS coordinates the Title I Annual Meeting and other school-wide events after consulting with the elementary school and high school in our address zone feeder pattern to eliminate scheduling conflicts for parents with students in multiple schools.	How Will the School Communicate with You? The Parent and Family Engagement Plan (PFEP) is presented at the Title I Annual Meeting. This meeting also serves to inform parents about the district grade, the school grade, curriculum, behavioral expectations, assessments, and how parents can participate at D. S. Parrott Middle School. Teachers offer parent conferences throughout the year where parents and teachers discuss student progress and how teachers, parents, and students work together for student success. Parents are encouraged to schedule a conference with their child's teacher whenever there is a concern. Teachers are flexible in scheduling conferences to accommodate parents within the limits of the school schedule and campus operating hours.

Offer Flexibility for Parent Meetings

Parents are surveyed each spring to determine the most convenient times to offer parent events. Given that no single time or day fits everyone's schedule, events are offered on a variety of weekdays and at a variety of times, including midday for the back-to-school open campus, late afternoon for Title I and SAC meetings, early evening for parent workshops, and digital on-demand workshops for parents who cannot physically attend school events.

School Accessibility

DSPMS serves students with both cognitive and physical disabilities. As such, the school is fully compliant with provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act in terms of physical accessibility to all areas of the campus. Parents requiring additional assistance may call the school at 797-7075 to work with school staff when additional assistance is needed.

Parents receive information about school events and activities in a variety of formats including flyers, the school website, email, and automated and personal telephone calls. When requested, print and verbal Spanish translations are available. In recent years, DSPMS has also provided translation to Chinese using Google Translate.
