

College Level Coursework

These following programs are the most common for students to pursue for post-secondary learning experiences.

	Advanced Placement (AP)	Concurrent Academic Progress Program (CAPP)	Transcribed Credit (TC)	Youth Options
Description	Advanced Placement is a program run by College Board that allows students to take courses in your high school that can earn college credit and/or qualify the student for more advanced classes when he/she begins college.	CAPP is an accredited program offered to high school students by Lakeland University. CAPP classes are pre-qualified and allow high schools to offer Lakeland University credit and high school credit for the same class. Students will have a formal transcript from Lakeland University for a CAPP course.	Transcribed credit (TC) is a type of concurrent enrollment used to describe concurrent enrollment within the WI Technical College System (WTCS). All concurrent enrollment courses are 'transcribed' in that student receive a formal transcript from the provider. WCTC course standards and grading expectations will be followed in all TC courses.	The WI Youth Options program allows students to take college level coursework through a post-secondary institution.

Requirements	Check the prerequisites for the course. Students are allowed to take any AP test without taking a course if they feel they are academically prepared. Let your counselor know to order the test.	Check the prerequisites for the course.	Check the prerequisites for the course.	Maximum of 18 credits allowed through Youth Options. Admission requirements are set by the institution awarding credit. Must fill out an application by October 1 for second semester and March 1 for first semester. Junior or Senior Standing. Course must not be offered in District.
Credit Opportunity	All AP exams are based on a 5 point scale. To earn college credit or receive advanced standing, a student must score a 3, 4, or 5 on the exam. How a course will transfer to a particular college will depend on how the student scores. Therefore, it is important to examine how the Advanced Placement course will transfer to your child's college of interest.	Students will receive dual credit for this course—both at the SFHS and Lakeland University. Depending on the course, students can earn 3 or 4 credits. Students must earn a C or higher to receive post-secondary credit. You will have a transcript at Lakeland University for courses completed.	Grades are earned through the college awarding credit. Taking any form of concurrent enrollment begins your official college transcript. In some cases, you apply prior to taking the course. In others, you apply for your credits following successful completion of the course. Credit transfer is at the sole discretion of your selected post-secondary institution.	Grades are earned through the college awarding credit and transferred to your transcript for credit.
