Deadline to opt into/out of on-site classes extended to Dec. 14

After receiving a variety of questions about our hybrid learning plan, we've extended the deadline for submitting your decision to Monday, Dec. 14, at 5 p.m.

- To see complete information and instructions for making your choice, click here.
- We anticipate sending students their cohort assignments by the time second semester classes begin on Monday, Jan. 11.
- NOTE: We will not implement hybrid learning until it is safe to do so. The soonest hybrid learning might begin would be January 19. This date, however, depends on local and county COVID-19 metrics

Submit your questions about hybrid learning

We're hoping to find a date to host a town hall about our hybrid learning plan; with December's compressed schedule of evening meetings and virtual performances, however, we're not sure we can make it happen. In the meantime, we've created a form to submit your questions about hybrid learning so that we can post an FAQ on our website. Please click here to send us your questions.

Remote learning continues through Dec. 4

As announced last week, we will remain on a fully remote schedule through this Friday, Dec. 4.

Board presentation on hybrid learning plan

This week, the Reimagine OPRF 2020-2021 Steering Committee will bring the final hybrid learning plan for approval at the Board special meeting on Thursday, Dec. 3. To see the final plan, click here; only minor edits were made following the presentation of the draft plan on Nov. 19. If you'd like to view the presentation made to the Board that evening, click here and go to the 1:29 mark.

Follow the 3W's to get students back on site

While local case counts of COVID-19 have leveled off and begun to decline in the past week or so, they are still quite a ways from where we need them to be to bring students back on site. We also anticipate that holiday travel this past weekend may reverse the downward trend.

We need everyone in our community to follow the 3W's:

- Wear a mask. Make sure your nose and mouth are covered.
- Watch your distance. Stay 6 feet apart.
- Wash up. Practice good hand hygiene by washing with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.
