Twelve Kimberly Students Selected for Fox Valley Medical Mentoring Program

Kimberly, Wis. – May 3, 2018 – Twelve Kimberly High School \(KHS\) students pursuing their career interests were selected for the Fox Valley Medical Mentoring summer program. This elite job shadowing program selects students based on academic rigor, teacher recommendations and student essays.

The following KHS students have been selected to be a part of the Fox Valley Medical Mentoring program:

Tristan Argall

Anna Cudney

Alex Curtin

Katie Ebben

Sam Friese

Adie Giesen

Alexandra Ho

Emmie Milheiser

Kaylie Petersen

Rachel Sanderfoot

Olivia Schreiber

Ava Siebers

“This opportunity will give students the chance to job shadow a potential future career in the health field,” said Kayla Sutton, science teacher at KHS. “We hope that it enlightens students on what the job truly entails to further guide them on their post-secondary career selection.”

These students have a strong desire to obtain a degree in the health care field. They will spend their summer experiencing these professions first-hand and they will have the opportunity to shadow a variety of medical professionals. The Fox Valley Medical Mentoring program is a great example of collaboration between area organizations and schools to provide opportunities for students to reach their potential and prepare for life after graduation.
