SPECIAL REPORTS

SPECIAL REPORTS

Oak Park Education Foundation

Deb Abrahamson and Angie Dodd shared the Foundation's accomplishments and plans for the year. The ladies updated the Board on the status of Art Smart, Geared Up, Vex Robotics, Architecture Adventure, and B.A.S.E. Camp. Accomplishments include revamping the Science Alliance program, ensuring programs are fresh and equitable, expansion of B.A.S.E. Camp, filling the need in the community, raising funds to support the programs during the school year, and increasing the volunteer base.

The Foundation is reaching over 60 percent of District 97 students. Efforts have been made to ensure that programs are being offered annually at each school and annual program audits are being performed.

Appreciation was extended to Dr. Roberts, President Barber and Lisa Schwartz for their support and participation.

Board comments and suggestions included interest in future summer programs, and seeing the actual number of touches the programs have with each child per year. Board members noted growth and commented on the Foundations ability to hire high school students during the summer.

Fast ForWord Pilot

Dr. Roberts, Jonathan Ellwanger, Harla Hutchinson, Duane Meighan, Sheila Carter, Mike Padavic, Paula Andries and Jean L'Heureux came to the table. Dr Roberts explained that Fast ForWord could be a great tool to support RtI. The program was used as a free pilot during the summer school session and the results of that session were shared.

Dr. Roberts explained that the pilot was done in less than perfect conditions. Beye, Holmes and Hatch participated as sites. Beye houses Hephzibah and offered the program to those families from June 14 – July 15 during the Extended School Year Program. Holmes school used the 90-minute a day program for fourth – eighth grade students and special education students, and reported that it was a good experience for the older students. Hatch ran two sessions of the 90-minute a day program from June 27 thru July 29 with 30 students.

L'Heureux compared scores to the MAP scores. She reported that of the 18 students who participated, 68 percent of them achieved typical growth. 48 percent of the students who did not take Fast ForWord achieved typical growth. Average growth of participants was seven months. She noted that students in the program were more attentive and eager to learn.

Statistics for the entire pilot identified 86 students in grades one through eight for 46 days. Attendance was 78 percent, participation was 92 percent, and 61 percent of the students showed gains.

The Reading Progress Indicator (RPI) is a nationally normed assessment used for analysis by the Fast ForWord program. RPI is correlated with numerous assessments including NWEA MAP, FCAT and MCAS. Map and Dibels scores will also be reviewed to support the results of RPI. Using the RPI data, 25 participants did not show improvements.

Dr. Roberts reported that Hutchinson will continue to compile data before a recommendation will be brought to the Board. He reported that the district needs to find a systematic way to put kids through the first tier of RtI. Hutchinson will also take a serious look at the gains experienced during the pilot and the gains the company provided, with an expectation of returning to the Board on November 29. Additionally, Dr. Roberts recommended an audit of the programs being used to determine if they are being used with or without fidelity. He explained that Fast ForWord is not a reading program. The program is an intervention that may cause us to eliminate other programs because they will be no longer needed. He explained that implementation of the Fast ForWord program still needs to be determined, explaining that it might be better off as a tier one intervention for certain groups of students before potentially implementing it district wide. He explained that the district would purchase the product; therefore it could be used as the district chooses.

Board comments and concerns included interest in knowing how many of the full attendance students did not make gains. Interest was also expressed in hearing more about the current reading programs for the younger students and how many reading programs the district is currently using. Interest was expressed in knowing what other Illinois districts are using the program and if they use it as a tier one intervention. Interest was expressed in seeing the actual numbers of the sub-groups and what their issues were. Interest was expressed in seeing an actual comparison to the MAP scores.

Dr. Roberts suggested that a demo be made available for the Board members prior to the next Board meeting, offering them an opportunity to get a better understanding of the program. He also explained that this program will be discussed during an Education Council meeting.

Principal Sheila Carter – Administrator Award

Principal Sheila Carter from Hatch School was acknowledged for earning the Administrator Award from the Illinois Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance. This award is given to administrators who "have given distinguished, varied and individual service to the physical education and health education professions, and who have advocated for quality physical education, health and dance programs." Carter, who was nominated for the award by retired District 97 teacher Sandy Noel, will be honored at the association's annual state convention on November 17, 2011.

5-Year Projection Report

Therese O'Neill came to the table to share the 5-year projections. She explained that she will return with revised projections in April and July. She suggested routine updates on the projections because of the state revenue and the referendum commitments.

Board comments included a request for the report to be written in lay person's terms, and an understanding of what the projections mean in relationship to the transparency associated with the referendum. A Web page dedicated to the projections was suggested and a request for receiving the three charts produced by member Spatz was made.
