SPECIAL REPORTS
MINDFUL MIDDLE SCHOOL PROGRAM
Carrie Kamm came to the table with Lisa DeVivo, the Executive Director of the Community Mental Health Board of Oak Park Township, and Dr. Orson Morrison from DePaul University Community Health Service.

DiVivo shared handouts related to the Township’s efforts to support good mental health, and explained that her organization is responsible for planning, developing, coordinating, and evaluating mental health, substance abuse, and intellectual/developmental disabilities systems of care in Oak Park Township. She shared that the 2018 Oak Park-River Forest Community Health Plan identified several health priority areas including behavioral health services for youth and families. She noted that the goal of this request is to meet the needs of sixth – eighth grade students who have complex behavioral health and social needs.

DiVivo shared data that indicated the needs for support in this area. She reported that interviews with District 97 faculty yielded the following topics:

- Anxiety
- Depression
- Electronic addiction
MINDFUL MIDDLE SCHOOL PROGRAM (Continued)

- Access to Child Psychiatry and Neuropsychology
- Home visits for "opportunity gap" families
- Executive Functioning training for parents and students

She noted that middle school students are showing increased mental health issues in conjunction with a decrease of academic performance. Key stakeholders recognize a connection between students’ mental health and their school performance, specifically in school attendance rates and class participation.

DiVivo reported that an RFP was released to the public in December 2018, and DePaul University Mindful Middle-Schoolers: Resiliency Skills for Anxiety, Depression and Executive Functioning was selected.

Dr. Orson Morrison, Director of the DePaul Family and Community Services explained that the mission of his organization is to strengthen and empower families and communities through innovative, evidenced-based services, and to train culturally-competent, socially responsible professionals. His program is currently reaching about 16 schools, mostly in the Chicago Public School system. They are providing direct services to teachers, and school staff in child contact enhancement; how to recognize the signs of mental health, and providing clinical health. He explained the different levels of intensity that his program offers, explaining that Mindfulness-Based Cognitive Therapy for Children is an evidenced-based approach for children with symptoms of anxiety, depression and difficulties with attention; it is a group format, but can also be adapted to individual therapy. It is meant to help the children learn how to bolster their emotions and give them tools to respond to situations.

The implementation timeline was shared, noting the beginning of the offerings in the fall, with one clinician at each school. There will be a lot of evaluation and data tracking (attendance, grade point average, the number of people trained, and their satisfaction in the program) done during the project.

Kamm shared that the team is working on a student identification process. She noted that the number of children that can be served through this program is limited. Referrals will be considered from teachers, parents, and even students, but every effort will be made to ensure that students who are not receiving outside care, will be considered first for this program.

Board comments included interest in;
- seeing outcomes around the sense of belonging and the whole child
- seeing that the physiological services that are provided are culturally aligned
- knowing what the interaction with the parents will look like once the groups are formed
- what the diversity of the staff will look like
- knowing where the data will be held

Concern was shared about the stigma in the black community around mental health, suggesting that there might be some hesitation to participate if the facilitator does not have the same skin color. Morrison explained that the two people who will be assigned to the schools understand cultural needs, and have the ability to build support across cultural lines.

BOARD ASSIGNMENTS
Standing board Committee Liaison Report Follow Up (as needed – FAC, FORC, CCE and CLAIM)

FAC
It was reported that the Lincoln and Longfellow projects are on budget. There have been some delays with the windows and the Longfellow elevator. A plan is in place for the beginning of the school year should the elevator not be functional at that time.

The committee recommended focusing on Hatch library upgrades during the summer of 2020 and focus on Beye during the summer of 2021. This will give the committee more time to develop a plan for the Beye ADA needs.

FORC
Dr. Kelley recommended cancelling the scheduled meeting for next week, as there is nothing specific for the group to discuss. A meeting was recommended in July, and it was suggested that the meeting be well publicized. Moving forward, the board agenda will be considered when creating agendas for this committee, with a goal of giving the committee members plenty of time to discuss upcoming needs prior to making recommendations to the Board.

CLAIM
The CLAIM committee is scheduled to meeting in June, and member Kearney will be in attendance. This committee does not schedule meetings in July and August. Member Broy will touch base with the committee secretary to determine the need for additional committee members.

EQUITY IMPLEMENTATION POLICY
It was suggested that the Board identify five dates in July for special Board meetings. The goal of these meetings would be to solicit community input on the need to align the equity action plan with the equity policy. Different times of the day will be offered for these meetings, and the topic of discussion will be clearly advertised. Member Liebl will share the topics of the meetings with the Board members, and President Broy will create a Doodle to determine the dates/times of the meetings.
RETREAT FOLLOW UP
Templates for the board report cover (summary) page and in-depth reports were shared. Board members were asked to supply feedback on the two documents to President Broy and Vice President Kim by next Monday.

President Broy reported that she will not be in attendance for the July meeting, therefore, Vice President Kim will lead the meeting in her absence.

The draft Board Agenda Schedule for 2019-2020 was shared. Interest was expressed in knowing how the Board members will have the opportunity to consider what will be discussed at these meetings. President Broy noted that a column has been added to the schedule that will be used to identify which reports will be formatted in the new report format (shared above).

President Broy reminded the Board members of the approved Board priorities for the year, and she asked them to identify what the Board needs to see, and when, to support these priorities. She reminded them that member Kearney will oversee the performance metrics and data, and she will oversee the culture and climate. Board members were asked to share their recommendations with the appropriate Board member.

It was reported that Dr. Kelley will present an update on the ALMA Diversity Hiring conversation during the August meeting.
