A Virtual Christmas Carol

By Flip Kobler & Cindy Marcus

Your theatre's Christmas season will sparkle with this new virtual twist on everyone's favorite holiday classic. Disney writers Flip Kobler and Cindy Marcus have struck the perfect balance with this traditional telling, updated to modern times and all done via video conferencing! Narrated by Charles Dickens, Scrooge is as tight-fisted and mean as ever, creating a life of hardship for his loyal employee, Bob Cratchit and his family. It takes the ghost of his old business partner, Jacob Marley, and three Christmas spirits to take him, virtually of course!, on a journey of self-discovery and growth. This fall we will be learning about this new form of theatre and present our own version of a timeless tale that our community will love watching from the comfort and safety of their own homes. Our students will also take a hands role on preparing for the production, including designing and creating props and costumes from everyday household items. Join us in learning this fresh and exciting approach to theatre.
