Induction & Mentoring Plan

Overview

Teachers come with a variety of experience and areas of need. Many teachers have extensive classroom experience, others have limited experience elsewhere, some are new to teaching, but all are new to the Newton Public Schools.

A good induction program has to address all of these levels of experience in order to be successful and promote high expectations for children. The goal of this Induction and Mentoring Plan is to offer teachers the tools and knowledge necessary to ensure that success.

Each component listed below is an integral part of teacher induction and requires the strength of all the other pieces to establish best practices for teachers.

- New staff orientation
- Monthly after school meetings with mentors
- Online professional development through Educational Impact and Safe Schools
- Mentor training and compensation
- Support from the School Improvement Panel (ScIP)

Overview of the Induction and Mentoring Plan

- New staff orientation
 - Two day orientation program during last week of August
 - ½ day overview of district operations (superintendent's office, business office, information services, special services, curriculum & assessment, professional development, character education, athletics)
 - ½ day overview of Danielson Framework for Teaching (teacher-coaches)
 - ½ day overview of school operations (principal and school staff)
 - ½ day meetings on mentoring process (mentors)
- Monthly after school meetings for new teachers and teachers with corrective action plans. There are tools in this plan that outline topics and activities for mentors and novice teachers.
- Mentor facilitated online training
 - Required of all new teachers and available to others
 - The Danielson Framework: 22 Components of Great Teaching - designed to

- strengthen new teachers' repertoire, beliefs, expectations, strategies:
- Classroom Strategies, Management, and Planning
 - A look at "distinguished" levels of proficiency
 - Differentiated Instruction
 - Parent Communication
- Danielson's Teaching Framework: Looking at Real Classrooms - real classroom observations of specific best practices of master teachers with concurrent feedback and analysis by Charlotte Danielson
 - Proactive and reactive discipline, classroom management strategies, and reflection
 - Managing progress monitoring and accountability
 - Instructional strategies refinement and reflection
 - Ability to accommodate unique and diverse learners effectively
 - Teacher Evaluation Using the Danielson Framework - designed to examine critical aspects of the tool
 - Effective conferences
 - Performance and evidence of student learning
- Mandatory online training through Safe Schools on topics including but not limited to: anaphylaxis; bloodborne pathogens; diabetes management; HIB; nebulizers and inhalers; novice teacher program; reporting missing, abused, or neglected children; right to understand; and school safety and security.
 - Mentor Training and Compensation
 - 12 hour training course, facilitated by the United Way, designed to provide mentors with collegial relationships that promote problem solving in order to support professional growth and student learning and achievement
 - Review of the research on new educator needs
 - Examination of the knowledge and skills needed for mentoring, coaching, and collaboration
 - Study of various data collection methods
 - Review of skills involved in pre and post conferences
 - Examination of strategies to close the achievement gap as one coaches and mentors
 - District stipend for mentors
 - Support from SCIP is available on an as needed basis

Role Of The Mentor

Defining Your Role

The success of a mentoring program depends on the well-defined role of the mentor.

Role of the Mentor

- To focus on classroom activities, including instructional techniques, curriculum and classroom management.
- To provide emotional support.
- To socialize teachers into the school community.
- To avoid being evaluative.
- To provide confidential support.
- To educate the new teacher about special programs in the school or district.

Conflicts

From time to time there may arise a conflict, personal or professional, between a mentor and a novice teacher. Either party may contact the building principal for consultation and possible reassignment.

Mentoring Partnership Agreement

We have agreed on the following goals and objectives as the focus of this relationship:

We have discussed the protocols by which we will collaborate on the development of a work plan. In order to ensure that our relationship is a mutually rewarding experience, we agree to

1. Meet regularly. Our specific schedule of contact and meetings, including additional meetings, follows:
2. Look for multiple opportunities and experiences to enhance the novice teacher's learning. We have identified, and will commit to, the following specific opportunities and venues for learning:
3. Maintain confidentiality of our relationship. Confidentiality for us means...
4. Honor the ground rules we have developed for the relationship. Our ground rules will be...
5. Provide feedback to each other and evaluate progress. We will accomplish this by...

We agree to meet regularly until we accomplish our predefined goals or for this school year. At the end of this period of time, we will review this agreement, evaluate our progress, and reach a learning conclusion. The relationship will then be considered complete. If we choose to continue our mentoring partnership, we may negotiate a basis for continuation, so long as we have stipulated mutually agreed-on goals.

In the event one of us believes it is no longer productive for us to continue or the learning situation is compromised, we may decide to seek outside intervention or conclude the relationship. In this event, we agree to use closure as a learning opportunity.

Conference Planning Question Guide

Clarification of Lesson Goals and Objectives

- What is the intent of the lesson?
- What is meant by specific words in your statement of the lesson's purpose?
- What assumptions are you making about the learners?
- What problems are you anticipating?
- How will you know when lesson plans are going well?
- How will you know when lesson plans are not going well?
- What events or actions will lead you to these conclusions?
- How will you adjust your lesson plan if students are not responding as you expected?
- What will students learn from the activities of the lesson?
- What do you anticipate that students will be doing during this particular activity?
 - What will their overall expressions be as they do it?
- How do your behaviors influence the students' behaviors?
- How will your behaviors be influenced by students?
- How will you determine if you are successful in achieving your lesson objectives?
- What behaviors will you see in students if they achieve the goals and objectives?
- What makes you think that the student behaviors envisioned are appropriate for the goals and objectives?

Decisions about Instructional Strategies

- What strategies will you be using?
- What makes them appropriate for this lesson?
- What are you expecting students to do in each activity guided by your strategies?
- How will you assure that students are behaving in ways appropriate for achieving the learning outcomes?
- In what order will you conduct the strategies?
- Why this order?

Focus of the Observation

- What is it that needs to be observed?
- How can we best represent it?
- How will this representation tell us what we are looking for?
- How do I communicate feedback to you?

Needs of the Teacher and Affirmations for Accomplishment

- What anxieties are you experiencing?
- How can I help you feel more comfortable?
- Once again, what is it that you want me to look for?
- How can I best communicate it to you following the lesson?
- What would you like for me to do while the lesson is in progress?
- What, if anything, can I do prior to the lesson?

Conference Debriefing Question Guide

Statement of Discrepancies

- What did you expect to happen in this lesson?
- What did you plan to do in the lesson?
- What actually happened when you conducted the lesson?
- What issues would you like to focus on?
- Why do you want to focus on these issues?
- What do you hope to gain from our discussion?
- How will this assist you in your instructional development?
- In what way was conducting the lesson different from what you anticipated?
- What was different about your actions?
- What were you thinking about?
- Why did you change from your original plan?
- What was different in the student actions from what you anticipated?
- Why do you think the students responded in this manner?

Analysis of Teaching Actions

- What did you feel you did well during the lesson?
- Why do you think it was necessary for you to do that?
- What were you having difficulty with?
- Why do you think that was difficult or not handled as effectively as you would have liked?

Generation of Solutions and Effects

- In what way was the situation or experience problematic for you as it evolved?
- Why did this bother you?
- What do you think you should do to change?
- If you change, what do you think will result in terms of students, you, and future instructional events?
- Why is this change important to you?
- How do you plan to implement this change?
- What problems do you think you will have? Why?
- What benefits will be derived from this change?
- What makes you think these benefits will result from implementing this change?
- What techniques or practices would you like to maintain?
- Why would you like to maintain them?
- How do you think these practices impact your classroom performance?
- How do you think these practices will impact your thinking about instruction, student learning, and future goals for developing your teaching repertoire?
- What do you want to focus on next time we meet?
- When would you like to meet?
